

Wedding

Bells

Lynda Ly and Keith Wong

After six-and-a-half years of dating, Keith Wong popped the question to Lynda Ly at St. Mark's Square in Venice, Italy. The couple had just taken a romantic gondola ride, and Keith knew the timing was right.

Having worked in the banking industry for four years, Keith and Lynda had only recently moved to Edmond, Oklahoma, and formed their own business—Pink Swirls—that serves natural fresh fruit, frozen yogurt, and shaved ice.

The couple decided to hold their wedding in Southern California, which is where Lynda had grown up and where the couple met as students at UC Riverside.

Skybox Event Productions worked with them to create an elegant and romantic wedding at the Huntington Beach Waterfront Hilton. Adding a playful touch, the couple had their dogs walk down the aisle in tuxedos. Another highlight of the wedding was the photo booth, which turned out to be a hit with the kids and the adults. All of the guests let loose at the photo booth—without realizing that the couple was going to get a copy of all the silly pictures!

Their honeymoon was enjoyed in Hong Kong, where the couple proceeded to host another wedding, since a number of Keith's family members live there.

